

Alexis Bird Schey 2016 Summer Internship Fund

Please circulate to possibly interested disabled students, groups, schools.

This packet is an invitation to high school and university students with disabilities to apply for funding for a 10-week Summer 2016 internship at a non-profit organization selected by the student. The Alexis Bird Schey Summer Internship Fund will select a student to receive $3,000 towards the student's internship salary. Application form is at the end of this document.

Alexis is one of hopefully thousands of examples of people who face unimaginable challenges in their lives and yet, through some unfathomable mysterious gift, see life through a lens of courage and creativity, mixed with a good dose of whimsical wit and humor. She graduated from Windward High School in Los Angeles, and Scripps College in Claremont, California, majoring in psychology. Alexis ambulated in a wheelchair. She had a congenital neuromuscular weakness and passed away November 2013 at the age of 28. She was a fire-ball, lived as independently as possible, was kind, constantly was learning and broadening her mind, was a good friend to many people, held no prejudices against anyone, loved music, film and theatre, and travel, learned how to cook gourmet meals, and had a great sense of humor – she's an inspiration to those dealt a difficult hand to play in life, and showed how to live to the fullest regardless of the obstacles and challenges.

Here are a couple of examples of the strength of her spirit. When she was about six we were on one of the many camping trips we took with about ten of Alexis's best friends in a campground surrounded by beautiful sycamore trees. Her friends were scrambling up those trees and would get about half way up when they could go no higher as the branches thinned out. I (dad) saw Alexis sitting on the ground watching her friends yelling encouragement that they should climb higher. Walked up to her and said "honey, you OK, do you want me to lift you to the lower branches?" She looked up with shining eyes. "They're only getting half way up with their hands and legs, I'm already at the very top using my imagination."

One more experience, though there are many we could share. Alexis was about seven years old. On a trip to San Diego and stopped in Del Mar State Park to look at the ocean from the top of the cliffs. There were people jumping off the top of the cliff strapped to hang-gliders, soaring around and landing on the beach far below. "Dad," she said almost immediately, "I've got to do that." A few minutes later a hippie looking guy was running towards the edge of the cliff with Alexis hanging under him and they soared off the edge of the cliff into the thin air. She looked back and waived. Ten minutes later she landed on the beach. "That," she said, flushed with excitement, "is how I want to live my life. Unafraid." Like a zen master, looked up and said "wherever I leap, a net will appear." She must have read that somewhere.

Alexis was dealt an extraordinary difficult hand to play in life, but she played it like she had a handful of aces. Her inner beauty overwhelmed her family and friends, she taught us to overcome fear with the power of courage. This internship fund is in her honor.
